Introduction

Events in any kind, has one main purpose: to promote a cause. Either a business or an artist, an event is an indirect way of promotional. To have a successful event, every organiser should effectively catch their audience' attention consistently.

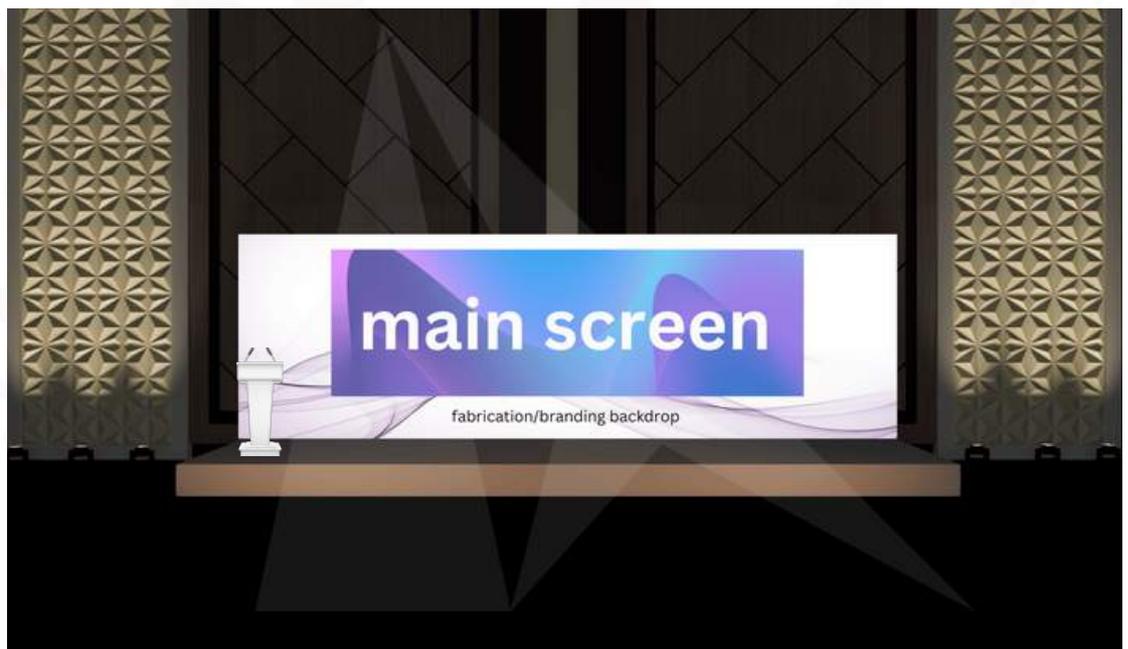

The common way to do that is through visual approach. With creative LED screen backdrops and effects, it is easier to convey a message to get the people's attention. In this guide, we present you some feasible and creative LED styles that you can apply on your next setup.
